

'BATH-TUB MURDER' CASE CALLED FOR TRIAL AT NEWARK

One Of Three Woman Defendants—
Miss Virginia Wardlaw—Died Of Voluntary Starvation On Aug. 12.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Newark, N. J., Sept. 21.—The case against Mrs. Caroline B. Martin and Mrs. Mary W. Shend who together with Miss Virginia O. Wardlaw, whose death from voluntary starvation occurred at the House of Detention on August 12, were indicted for the murder of Mrs. Okey Wardlaw Martin Shend, the victim of the famous "Bath-tub Murder," was called for trial before the New Jersey Supreme Court in this city today. It was known that the State had the strongest case against Miss Virginia O. Wardlaw and it was rumored that owing to the death of Miss Wardlaw the prosecution would probably abandon the case against the two other defendants, but this supposition proved to have been wrong. The prosecution, though, followed in convicting Miss Wardlaw showed no disposition to give up the case against the two other defendants and there is every reason to believe that they will be given a speedy trial.

Mrs. Okey Shend was found dead in the bathtub of the house No. 89 West Fourteenth street, East Orange, on November 29, 1909 and so peculiar were the circumstances surrounding her death that the authorities began to investigate, to ascertain the true facts in the case. In the afternoon of November 29 some woman called up the police of East Orange, asking for the address of the coroner. When the woman was informed that there were no coroners in New Jersey, she informed the police that a woman had committed suicide in No. 89 West Fourteenth street. Dr. H. M. Simmons, one of the deputy county physicians was sent to the house and found the body of the young woman in the bathtub. The body was full of water and the body of the young woman was submerged. At first the physician did not suspect that there was anything wrong, as he found, pinned to the clothes of the woman, a note stating that she had committed suicide. Closer investigation convinced him, however, that woman had been dead more than twenty-four hours. As the bathroom was the only one in the house it seemed strange that the body had not been found sooner. The explanations offered by the three women in the house did not satisfy the physician and upon his report a careful investigation was begun by the police authorities.

It was ascertained that the victim of the tragedy and her aunt, Miss Virginia Wardlaw, had moved into the house on West Fourteenth street ten days before the finding of the body. They had no furniture excepting a cot and soap box, which served as a table. The two women had no money and had subsisted on milk, biscuits and a few oranges. It was found that the three women afterward indicted, were near relatives of the victim. The aunt of the dead woman, Miss Virginia Wardlaw, came from a well connected Southern family and at one time was president of South College, at Marietta, Ga., and later a member of the faculty of the same college. She was the exact circumstances which led to the decline of the family fortune are not known, but it seems that Miss Wardlaw, accompanied by Mrs. Caroline B. Martin, the mother of Okey, and Mrs. Mary W. Shend, the mother of Okey's husband, Fletcher W. Shend, came to New York some years ago probably in the hope of recovering their fortune. At first they lived at the Waldorf-Astoria, but as their funds dwindled, they moved to less expensive quarters in Brooklyn and finally to the unfurnished house in East Orange. Okey's husband could not be found for a long time, but was finally located in St. Catherine's Ont. where he was working as a cook. He seems to have no connection with the mysterious death of his wife.

It was ascertained that the women were in desperate financial condition for several years and borrowed from many wealthy persons, giving notes as security. As a strong moment of suspicion is considered the fact that the wife of Okey Shend was insured in ten companies for an aggregate of $72,000. The insurance companies at first suspected that the body of the young woman in the bathtub was not that of Okey Shend, but the body was positively identified by several persons, among them the doctor who had treated Okey Shend when her baby, which died in the spring of last year, was born. Another strange feature is the fact that six or seven wills were found, purporting to have been signed by Okey, Shend, and making her aunt and some relatives the beneficiaries.

The three women were indicted for murder on December 22, 1909, and influential friends furnished them with the means for engaging counsel. Miss Wardlaw, the principal defendant, deliberately starved herself to death and was removed from the jail to the House of Detention, where she died on August 11.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Danville, Ill., Sept. 21.—Speaker Cannon in a letter to his congressional convention today accepting his twentieth term as a representative, hurled defiance at the insurgents and democrats who have attacked the tariff law. As a leader of the "stand-paters" in congress, Cannon made it plain he will continue to stand pat. Cannon said: "I have no defense to make of the Payne tariff law for it needs none. It is the enactment of pledges made by the republican convention of 1908." The letter dealt with commercial and industrial conditions of the country in support of Cannon's contention.

TAWNEY DEFEATED BY SMALL MARGIN AFTER HOT FIGHT

Veteran Minnesota Congressman Ousted From Seat by Sydney Anderson of Lanesboro.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 21.—Primaries were held throughout this state for the nomination of candidates for congress, state legislature and county offices.

Interest centers in the First district and the scattering returns indicate the defeat of Congressman J. A. Tawney by a small margin by Sydney Anderson, a young attorney of Lanesboro. This will probably be the only change in the delegation to congress, although there is a possibility of defeat of C. F. Stevens in the Fourth district by Hugh Halbert.

Tawney Contest Warm.
The fight on Tawney has been the warmest in the state. Anderson was brought out by the progressive league and few thought he had any show. But he made a better campaign than anticipated and unless later returns are different, he wins by a small margin. The winner will be opposed by H. L. Buck of Winona, who had a clear field for the Democratic nomination.

Halbert did not get into the fight until three weeks ago, but has made a whirlwind campaign. The Stevens people did not see any chance of defeat until a couple of weeks ago, but since then Stevens has made a strong fight for re-nomination.

New York Result in Doubt

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21.—While both sides are claiming victory as a result of the primaries held up state, indications are that the old guard has triumphed and that Vice-President Sherman will be elected temporary chairman of the state convention over Theodore Roosevelt.

William J. Barnes, Jr., asserted that Roosevelt will be defeated by a majority for Sherman of 55 votes. He bases his calculations on returns received by his newspaper.

On the other hand Lloyd C. Griscom, for the Roosevelt wing of the party, contends that the figures given out by Barnes are without basis in fact, and asserts that delegates favoring the chairmanship of Roosevelt will predominate in the state convention.

Sherman Loses in Own District

The severest blow to Sherman was his defeat in his own assembly district, the Second of Oneida county, and in his own ward in the city of Utica. He, however, will lead the county delegation to the convention, evidently having carried the county.

Mr. Barnes says the fight at Saratoga now will be in the committee on resolutions, where he will make a struggle against the insertion of a direct nomination plank in the platform. He appears to be confident of success.

As a result of the primaries here Mr. Barnes will head a delegation of 28 anti-Roosevelt men from Albany county. There were no contests against Barnes' leadership.

Majority Over 2,000.
O. M. Lovins, campaign manager for Sydney Anderson, who defeated James A. Tawney for the nomination says today that Anderson's majority will be more than two thousand.

TAFT ASSAILED THE WATERWAYS "PORK BARREL"

In Address Delivered Today on Occasion of the Opening of the Ohio River Dam at Cincinnati.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Cincinnati, Sept. 21.—President Taft in a speech delivered at the opening of the Ohio river dam, discussed the value of waterways in commerce and advocated systematic improvement of rivers.

He pointed out the faults of the present system, and how they could be remedied. He wanted one great work undertaken and completed at a time instead of present piecemeal method. He also called attention to the custom of railroads cutting freight rates wherever there was river competition until river business was destroyed and then restoring rates. Under the new law, however, he said this scheme would be impossible.

Water Traffic Benefits.
In a determined attack on the present "pork barrel" system of river improvements appropriations, President Taft in his speech here said in part:

"Today you are celebrating the opening of another great improvement which must in the future have much to do with the business growth of the city. I mean the improvement of the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo. It is to this improvement that I will direct my remarks.

"The Waterways Commission points out that in localities where water-borne traffic has increased, as on the Great Lakes, careful and elaborate provision has been made for the handling of freight in the most economic manner. An examination shows that the average rate of speed of a railroad car loaded with freight is not much greater than would be the speed of a tug boat and barge on one of our rivers; and if we could have a river navigable for all times for the same depth, there would seem to be no reason why schedules should not be made quite as regular as those upon railways.

"One of the great reasons for the decrease of river transportation has been the competition of railroads physical advantages. More than these, traffic managers of railroads have lowered their own traffic rates where there is water competition until the river business has been entirely discouraged and then raised the rates when the river business has been thus suppressed.

Friendly Co-Operation.
Provisions have been made in the railway act, passed at the last session of congress which will prevent railways adopting this device of destroying river competition. The truth is, that with the new development of river business, it will be possible to give power to our interstate commerce commission to make regulations for the joint traffic between rivers and railways that will justly encourage the river business, for if we use our waterways in the most economical manner there must be a friendly co-operation as the waterways commission points out between

"It is doubtful how far, by executive orders, I can go in directing the engineers to make recommendations in forming Congress as to the relative importance of the projects adopted and entered upon. I think I have gone as far as I can in this matter and I shall ask Congress for more power at its next session.

"In signing the first river and harbor bill, which was subject to the criticism that many items were contained therein that were merely 'pork barrel' and indicated to Congress that the passage of another bill of that character would merit a vote. Certainly, until this fundamental (Continued on Page 2.)

PRESENT PROSPECTS ARE RATHER GLOOMY

High School Football Team Will Have To Be Whipped Into Shape For Coming Season.

Prospects for a winning team in football at the high school for this year, are rather gloomy, although the enthusiasts are hoping that Coach Knutson, who rounded the raw material from which he had to select a team last year, into such good shape, may perform like intruder again. A number of last year's eleven were removed by graduation and of the number of last year's eleven were your team, Raymond Falter has had to give up practice because of the objections of his parents. Candidates for places on the squad are appearing for practice, but they are mostly new men, and the same process that was gone through last fall will have to be repeated if Janesville is to make a showing. At present the team is not in good shape and they have a game with the Northern Wisconsin Business college on Saturday. This will be largely for determining the quality of the team and for picking out the weaknesses in the line and formation. Later they will play with the Beloit, Jefferson, Elkhorn and White-water high school elevens and on October 1, they are scheduled to line up against the Plattville Normals at Plattville.

form is put into effect, the improvement of our rivers and inland waterways will be chiefly important because of the local advantages of money expended and not because of the betterment of our transportation.

Various Aspects.

"The evil in the corrupting control of a Congress or a Legislature by private interests is manifest and always calls for condemnation. But there is another kind of legislative abuse as dangerous and that is the selfish combination of the representatives of the majority to expend the money of the government for temporary benefit of a part or with a little benefit to the whole. It is the duty of the majority and the minority to legislate always for the benefit of the whole people and any enactment that looks to the selfish exploitation of less than the whole at the expense to the whole and without benefit to the whole is a species of legislative abuse that comes very near corruption in its effect and is perhaps more dangerous than corruption because those who support such a combination are generally held in its defense.

"The days of the pork barrel should be numbered. The country is rushed against corporate or corrupt control of legislative agencies but it is doubtful whether the constituencies as yet are able to perceive the higher obligation on the part of themselves and their representatives not to use their votes in combination to appropriate to a part which belongs to the whole."

To Attend Opera.

President Taft was in the hands of the Ohio exposition officials' most all of today. The major part of the time was spent at the exposition and a tour of the grounds was made before the President delivered his speech in the evening. Early in the evening the President is to be escorted to the business men's club where he will be a guest at dinner. Immediately after dinner he will return to the hotel to attend a performance of grand opera.

Kidney Trouble for Nearly Thirty Years.
William Bailey, Post Office, No. 10, Union Veteran Legion, and prominently identified with many of the great labor protective associations in Chicago and New York, and secretary of one of the largest associations in the former city, had for nearly thirty years been afflicted with kidney troubles.

Within a short period he has been persuaded to try Peruna, and his present healthy condition is attributed to his judicious use of that great remedy. Washington climate is notoriously bad for kidney and liver troubles, yet by a judicious use of the remedy he is now quite cured and in excellent physical condition.

This brief statement of facts, without exaggeration or hyperbole, appears to tell the whole story, which the Peruna Company is authorized to use, if it so chooses, believing, as I do, that by so doing it will be for the general good.

William Bailey, 541 St., N. E., Washington, D. C.

Kidneys Affected—Back Weak.
Mr. M. Broderick, Secretary and Treasurer Local Union No. 404, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, writes from 45 E. 40th St., Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"I have been suffering from a weak back and kidney trouble for some time, and have been unable to find relief until through the use of Peruna.

"During the winter season I usually keep a bottle of your medicine in the house, and by taking a dose at night I am feeling fine the next morning.

"Some of my friends assure me that Peruna is equally as good for their various ailments as it is for my complaint; but I do know that for kidney trouble and suffering from a weak back it has no equal."

Gold Settled in Kidneys.
Mr. Joseph Klee, 25 East 4th St., Topeka, Kas., writes:

"My wife took Peruna for liver trouble and a run-down condition incident to the same. A few bottles built up her health and strength.

"I took Peruna for a cold which settled in my kidneys, giving me much pain. In two weeks I was much better, and in a few months I was well."

For Liver and Kidneys.
Mr. W. H. Armstrong, Cumberland, C. H., Va., writes:

"Your Peruna has cured me of chronic catarrh of long standing. I thank you so much for your advice. I think it is a great medicine. It will do all that you recommend it to do. Besides, I can recommend it to cure all liver and kidney troubles."

Chronic Kidney Trouble.
Judge C. J. Park, R. F. D. 1, Buckhead, Ga., writes:

"For a long time I was troubled with catarrh of the kidneys, and after taking Peruna I feel like a new man. I think it the greatest catarrh medicine of the age, and believe it will cure any case of catarrh on record."

When he returned, the coat was gone and he immediately suspected the two strangers. Both deny their guilt.

VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR IN AN IMPOSING PARADE

Old Soldiers made a Brave Showing before the Assembled Thousands at Atlantic City today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

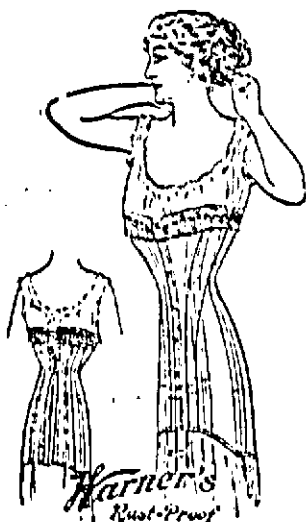

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 21.—Thousands of spectators lined the principal thoroughfares of Atlantic City today and cheered the veterans of Gettysburg and Antietam as they marched in the annual parade of the Grand Army National Encampment. With bands playing and flags flying the old soldiers made a brave showing and displayed much enthusiasm. But the line of march was shorter and the number of paraders noticeably less than in years gone by, and altogether there was something pathetic in the thinned-out ranks of the veterans which touched the hearts of all who saw them.

Promptly at ten o'clock this morning the signal to start was fired by Battery "A," some of the Veterans Reserve Division of New Jersey. The start was made from the intersection of North Carolina Avenue and Pacific Avenue, the line thence through Rhode Island Avenue, Ohio Avenue, Atlantic Avenue and other leading streets to Tennessee Avenue, where the column was disbanded.

Chief Marshall Silas N. Towler and his staff led the column Commander-in-Chief Van Sant and his escort were next in line. The forty-four departments of the Grand Army followed, with the Department of Illinois in the van. The Department of New Jersey the encampment host, brought up the rear. Governor Fort and other notables, including the national officers of the Sons of Veterans and other organizations affiliated with the G. A. R., reviewed the procession from a stand erected in Park Place.

Throughout the parade was strictly military, no women, children or grotesque costumes being permitted in the column. A hearty reception was extended to the veterans all along the route, each of the departments being cheered as it filed past. The demonstration was one of great enthusiasm, old and young turning out to greet the fast-fading ranks.

FALL ANNOUNCEMENT

"MADE IN JANSVILLE WEEK"

Sept. 29th, 30th, Oct. 1st
Everybody for miles around is invited.

THIS Fall with our enlarged equipment we are especially anxious to have the people of Rock county learn more about the hundreds of beautiful varieties of flowers and plants we are growing to help to beautify the home and to bring just a little more pleasure to all. The wonders of nature are but little known and not fully appreciated. To get all possible out of life we should learn to know the beautiful in nature and to love its handiwork. Flowers and plants were put on earth for a purpose, viz: to give pleasure and happiness to mankind; to teach us what the true beauty is. This fall and winter during the dreary days, with the cold and snow out of doors, make your home more comfortable and cheery with plants and flowers. The ozone thrown off by plants is healthful, the perfumes are delicious, the beauties are unequalled.

SLOW TO ECONOMIZE.

"The current needs of the American people are large, accustomed as they are to a liberal scale of living, and these immediate requirements make an immense total." So says Dun's Review, not in a spirit of fault-finding with the prevailing extravagance, although the statement ought to arouse reflections on that subject. Hardly anywhere is there a disposition to economize. More or less contraction in business has been noticed by nearly everybody; yet hardly anybody has taken steps to get a better hold upon his individual expense; much less has the necessity been considered of making a real effort to put something by against a rainy day.

"The disturbance of business is looked upon, unfortunately, as a very temporary matter; and he who ventures to predict that it may be long continued, is accused of pessimism, if not of a lack of patriotism. Hundreds of thousands go steadily along in a path of increasing extravagance. They are undeterred by the fact that their expenses now exceed their income, and are drawing upon their bank accounts, if not actually running in debt, to meet the deficiency."

The American people are slow to learn except in the school of experience and so the habits of extravagance, developed during a long era of prosperity, will continue to dominate so long as money and credit holds out.

Capital is not only more conservative, but more timid as well and any radical changes in public policy drives it to shelter and frequently to retirement.

The large business enterprises of the country are necessarily in the hands of corporations, because too extensive to be successfully handled by individual investors.

The term, "special interests," while originally applied to public utilities enjoying special privileges, now covers corporate organization, in the minds of many people, and all are more or less under the ban of public disapproval.

The railroads of the country are dependent for supplies upon a long list of manufacturers who have no interest in the roads except as customers.

This interdependence is the warp and woof of the business interests of the country, and when one department suffers, the others are not immune.

But little, comparatively, has been done by the railroads in the way of betterments and extensions during the past three years, and while the automobile and other industries have partially made good the loss, the outlook for a continuance of activity along these lines is not promising.

This means that enforced idleness, for many people who have had steady employment, will follow as a result, and this means contraction all along the line.

While optimism is a grace which every man should cultivate, there are times when conditions should be squarely faced. The time may not be far distant when our needs and not our wants will be the governing factor.

CIVILIZING TURKEY.

That Christianity and civilization go hand in hand is being demonstrated in Turkey, as will be seen by the following letter from Shibly Jannal, a Turk, to the Christian Herald.

"When the Turkish revolution was over, there flowed over the Ottoman people a strong wave of revived energy. Men who formerly had been afraid to raise their voices in the presence of their khal, now stood on chairs and boxes in the streets and harangued the crowds.

"Then the press caught the infection, and in less than six months hundreds of newspapers came into being. Almost every village now boasts of its paper. In some large towns a score or more of daily journals have replaced the once poor, censored, tongue-tied, ever cautious, dry weekly bulletin.

"Since the larger part of Turkey is essentially agricultural, great strides have been made along this line. Farmers in the interior are very conservative and cling with an almost childish devotion to the tools and implements used by their fathers and great-grandfathers from the days of Abraham. Even such conservatism, however, is giving way, especially when the greater usefulness of Western methods is demonstrated.

"For instance, the rich plains of Gaza are now being cultivated by means of an English twenty-horse-power, which was imported by the Orient Commerce company, and for the cost of which the natives subscribed every penny. The good results of this Western plow have induced the new governor of Jerusalem to order five more implements for work upon the plain of Sharon, the plain of Esdras, the plain of Replatin and the Jordan Valley. A steam road-roller for the streets of Jerusalem has also been ordered."

Here is a little romance of peculiar interest to Wisconsin people, published in a religious journal. "A romantic incident in the life of Florence Nightingale is mentioned in a recent telegram from Fox Lake, Wis. It states that Miss Nightingale in her childhood was the sweetheart of William Shore, her cousin. As the church canon of consanguinity forbade them to marry they parted with mutual vows of constancy. Shore left England for America and settled in Fox Lake, Wis. He remained single there. He died in 1818 and was buried in Wauwasha cemetery, near the village. The Angel of the Crimea in her English home waited patiently for the messenger that has just taken her to her lover."

Saloons in Nebraska pay a license fee of $1,000, have no screens and close at 8 o'clock in the evening. The state is committed to a county option law, and this, with stringent regulation, is the principal issue of the campaign. The democratic candidate for governor, James C. Dahlen of Omaha, is committed to veto any county option bill which may be passed, and also favor the repeal of the early closing hour. Mr. Bryan favors both and will not support the ticket. A merry fight is promised.

The New York republican state convention will be held at Saratoga next week and the outcome will determine which faction of the party is dominant in the state. Colonel Roosevelt has already engaged headquarters and is primed for a fight to the finish. The first skirmish will decide whether he or Vice President Sherman shall provide as temporary chairman, and then will come the platform. It is a disgraceful row which should have been avoided for the sake of President Taft and the welfare of the party. The results will be watched with interest.

The issue of the present campaign is not the tariff, special interests nor conservation, but Roosevelt, pure and simple. The new nationalism which he advocates, has crystallized popular sentiment and the man looms up above the President and the party. It is a new experience in American politics which may result in a complete revolution of all parties. The personal equation just now is the man and not the party. This is true of Wisconsin as well as of the nation.

One of the industries which evidently does not need protecting is tin. The world's production is 125,000 tons, which at present commands a market price of $700 per ton. The United States produced last year but 75 tons, and imported 40,000 tons. The infant industry has shown but little development in the past ten years, and is too small to merit protection. The duty should be removed.

It is to be regretted that the bridge ordinance was not properly drawn before being submitted to the people. Public sentiment is easily influenced and the November election may reverse the verdict already rendered. It is to be hoped that the project will carry.

The streets now being made in Janesville, are the best in the history of the city and reflect credit on the men responsible. The people are alive to the fact that it pays to do things right.

ARRESTED AT THE UNION HOUSE BY CHIEF THIS NOON

W. Arthur Evans is Wanted at Cadillac, Mich., on Illicit Liquor Dealing Charge.

W. Arthur Evans, employed here for the past two months by Cement Contractor Evans and wanted by the authorities at Cadillac, Mich., on a government warrant charging illicit sales of liquor, surrendered to Chief Appleby at the Union House this noon after the latter had made threats to break in the door of his room, No. 13. The proprietor of the tavern told the head of the police department that the man was in the dining room and while the officer was waiting for him to come out, passed the word along to his boarder to "skip." Chief Appleby had a long chase around the immediate vicinity and finally, acting on information given by a chambermaid, caught the man packing his chattels in the room he had occupied. Evans is about 25 years of age.

It was announced that on account of the Irish party Monday evening next week's club festivities would be postponed until Thursday evening, Sept. 22, at which time a chicken supper would be an additional attraction. There is a movement on foot among some of the club members to follow the recent example of the Racine Country club and prohibit card-playing in the basement on dance nights.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

I WANT some help from my readers. You see, it's this way. A young girl has written me this letter:

"Dear Miss Cameron:

"Did you ever know of a young woman embarrassed, awkward, and silent in company, being transformed into one who could contribute her share of pleasure and not feel that she was a burden to everyone in the room? If you know of such a case, and the factors in the change, will you please write about it some time?"

"I have been brought up in a home without other children, have spent more of my time in reading than in learning to be of use, and now find myself unable to mingle easily with other young people. Often I realize that the other girls are trying to make me one of their company, are exerting themselves for me to have a good time, but I cannot seem to get over my trouble and am miserable every time I go out."

Now, both for her sake and for the sake of the very many girls like her, whose shyness and inability to mix spoil many good times for them, I'd just love to help that girl.

But what can I tell her? I can't say that I ever personally happened to know a girl who did overcome an excessive shyness well enough to ask her how she did it.

I can give my young correspondent some general advice.

I can say the best way to get over shyness and self-consciousness is to think, not of yourself, but of other people; to be so interested in those about you that you forget yourself—but then it seems to me as if everyone ought to know that.

I can say—wear just as pretty clothes as you possibly can and make your self look as attractive as possible so that you won't feel embarrassed on that score, but then, it seems as if any normal girl would do that anyhow.

I can advise—force yourself to learn to talk small talk—but then, I suppose she must have tried to do that already.

So I want my readers to help me out.

Surely among all of them there is at least one woman who has been afflicted with shyness and self-consciousness as a girl, and who has more or less overcome her affliction.

Now won't she please write me about how she did it, that I may pass the word along to this girl?

If she will take that trouble I think it will surely be a white mark in the good book for her.

wish to wash it oftener than twice a month. Remember that it is better to risk a hair an hour earlier and have the satisfaction of being well groomed than to turn over for a last delightful 30 whisks. It takes a good deal of strength of character to forego the extra sleep, sometimes, but it pays in the general effect, both upon yourself and those about you.

SINNERS ALL.

THE MARY HUSSELL. The people who waste your time shall some day be cast into a pit from which there will be no escape—if they get their dues.

The trouble is that they are so lovable, that they have so many charming attributes in all that keeps you from rising up and smiting them where they stand. They are an innumerable legion and they have many characteristics.

There is the woman who will call you up over the telephone to discuss anything and everything without a thought of how you are situated. You may be standing upon one foot with impatience to be gone—your bread may be rising too high—your pudding may be scorching—your dress-maker may be spending valuable time for which you are paying out good money. You may be in the middle of a most fascinating book when you have but little time for reading—in short, a thousand things may call you, and yet you must be pleasant and listen to a great deal which you would rather not hear just then, however much you might like to discuss it at your leisure.

This is a telephone sin—and their name is legion! It is impossible to tell by vibrations of the ether that this disturbed condition exists in your heart. The friend at the other end of the line, seated in your love, "never thinks." And you are helpless because you love her. The question is, do you learn a lesson? Are you careful to confine your telephoning to the matter in hand without more than the exchange of courtesies? I am afraid you do not remember. Some day some exasperated woman will invent a telephone which will show red when you are reluctant to stand listening to a discussion of socialism, or soft frage, or hobbie skirts. It will be placed when you are really at leisure and desire to have a good gossip. The color for other emotions will have place. All this without collision on your part—just part of the instrument. That will do away with much hypocrisy—but I am afraid we will all have our telephones taken out!

There is the man or woman who, having completed a visit, lingers at the door. They have really said all that is worth saying—perhaps they have even taken more time in the saying than it was really worth. That is not counted a sin. We all drive at times. But the person who hangs on to a door knob and holds you reluctant and tired, chained to the post, should be electrified.

The people who meddle with your private business affairs at inopportune times, the ones who hold you fast by the buttonhole when they have said all they have to say, the everlasting self-interested person who thinks you are interested in every heart-beat as well as the state of health of the whole family connection, those who pretend they want advice when they are really seeking commendation for the course they have already planned and will adhere to no matter how much you disapprove—all these will have a special third degree of punishment if we are any of us punished for our sins.

But we will not be afraid. We will always think—if we consider the matter—that the punishment is meant for the other fellow. That is another of our pleasant little hyperboles, and so we will go on being cheerful under affliction—and perhaps that is what the Lord sent. It is good practice in the Christian virtues.

THE COLON.

The colon, the larger lower part of the intestine, is the retainer for excrementitious matter though it has a small capacity for absorption, so that sufficient nutriment can be absorbed through that channel to maintain life for a time. There is a tendency to undue retention, especially in adults of sedentary habits, and a habit can be induced by long continued irregularity, which should be guarded against. The constant absorption of poisonous matter into the blood from this source is the most constant general cause of disease, auto-intoxication, weakening the natural power of defense against disease, through pure blood. Auto-intoxication is also the chief cause of mental depression, which again becomes a source of toxic poisoning as tangible as muscular exhaustion or dietetic error. Hence the double importance of intestinal sanitation, by correct feeding and buoyancy, normal physical exercise and the avoidance of sudden changes. The occasional use of the enema, especially in emergencies is necessary, but it should no more become habitual than the use of cathartics.

STYLISH FALL COSTUME.

Many of the larger shops are already showing fall fashions and models. A charming model from which our sketch was made was of black and white plaid mohair, trimmed as shown above with bands of black satin and satin-covered buttons. Chenille and silk were alternate bands of tucked mousseline and Irish insertion, which also served as a finish to the short sleeves, the mousseline being finely plaited in this instance.

PAN LIFTER

Grips Pan at Handle and Prevents Burning of Fingers.

Cooks have been heard to express wonder that the big, oblong frying pans are equipped with handles at all. The new grip pan always lying flat along the ends of the pan and they get so hot that they cannot be touched with the bare hand and are hard to grip with a cloth. A Texas woman has come to the rescue with a pan lifter which eliminates all danger of burns. This lifter has a long handle with upwardly and downwardly curving jaws at the end and a further projection at the upper end. The lower jaw is inserted under the handle that holds the wire handle of the frying pan and the downwardly projecting lip is dropped into them. With the lower jaw acting as a lever and the upper jaw grasping the end of the pan, the latter can be lifted off the stove or drawn out of the oven, if it is used for roasting, without the cook's hand coming within six inches of it. The extension at the top can be used to hold a lid on the pan if there is one.

Criticizes Her Sex.

Mrs. Maxwell Dwight Hillis, wife of the minister, says in an article in the Outlook, that American women are not a success as house-makers. The American woman has been reared upon a false conception, she thinks. Has been set upon a pedestal and worshipped and has come to believe that she is a superior sort of being. She questions whether the talkative, self-assertive American girl is as well fitted for the work of the world as the English and German girls.

Signature For Which Robert Chanler Would Pay Millions

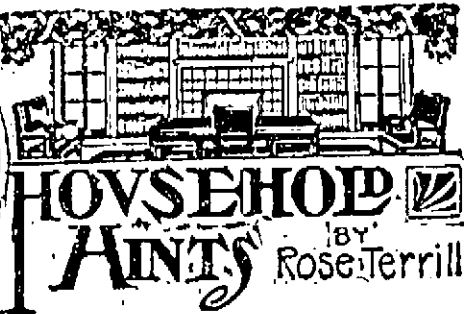

Part of Cavalleri-Chanler, prenuptial agreement and the shrewd actress who combined business with love.

New York, Sept. 21.—The marriage agreement between Lina Cavalleri and "Bob" Chanler, will be the center of one of the most bitterly contested court fights of the year unless a compromise is effected. The beautiful actress will have her claim on the prenuptial agreement, made by Chanler in which he gives her his real estate and $20,000 per year.

Should Cavalleri prove obdurate or extortionate in her demands and force the case to court, the contention of the family will be that the trust which the prenuptial agreement specified are "express trusts," and that any action by Chanler toward taking them up was void in law. While it is not disputed he has a right to give her what he pleases, out of his income, his right to direct the trustees to pay the income to another is denied.

HOUSEHOLD AINTS BY Rose Terrill

It is hardly worth while to remind you that you should have protected your complexion all during the summer. You have found that out for yourself by the aid of a more than truthful hand mirror and an evening gown. There is but one thing to do—get busy. It is always a pity for a girl to be so reckless of consequences as to allow her face to become tainted very deep. There is wrought some permanent injury to the skin which is beyond repair. It will grow thicker with each year's layer of tarnish till age will find the roughest complexion of youth giving way to the leathery wrinkles which are the nightmare of the apostate woman. Remember that, another season, and lay in a full supply of toilet creams and automobile velvets. And use them, too!

If you find snail's blackheads appearing just remember that that is dirt—dirt and simple. The dust clogs the pores, aided by the natural oils of the skin, and before you realize it you have wrought a damage to the complexion which will take a long time to cure. Bathing at night in very hot water with a sponge, firm, complexion brush and pure soap and then rinsing that with hot water and then with cold, to which has been added a little benzoin, will be the only way to repair the damage. Creams—made at home and therefore pure—should be used freely during the day as a cleanser. Creams are the best protection against the ravages of sun and wind that you can use. Rubbed in thoroughly, and then carefully wiped off till no shine is left, a dust of powder over all, and the danger is greatly reduced. It only takes a moment of time and does a world of good.

For bleaching, peroxide of hydrogen is one of the most effective. It should be diluted one-half and the lashes and eyebrows, as well as the edges of the hair should be untouched. Otherwise there will be bleached hair as well as a white skin.

A cucumber cream which will whiten and soften the skin is made of succinate one ounce, white wax one ounce, oil of sweet almonds to ounces, juice of cucumber three ounces. A few drops of oil of rose geranium will make the cream sweet and a few grains of sodium borate will keep it from becoming rancid and also whiten the skin.

The hands must be washed thoroughly every night and should have a soaking in warm olive oil to keep them young looking. Rubber gloves will help the housewife and there should also be kept a pair of those kid gloves to wear at night. If the hands are rubbed with a whitening cream and the gloves worn for a few nights there will be a marked change for the better.

Brush the hair every night for as long a time as you can spare. Towel it out till it is thoroughly dried and rub the scalp with a soft cloth if it is inclined to be oily and you do not

ELECTRIC LAMPS SAVED LIFE.

By Their Aid Tooth Is Removed from Woman's Lung.

Toledo, O., Sept. 21.—By means of minute electric lamps which made it possible to see down a woman's throat and clear into the lower lobe of the right lung, and to insert through the trachea extensible forceps, a Toledo physician removed a fragment of a tooth from the right lung of Mrs. G.
Cole of Van Wert, and without doubt saved her life.

Last February, while under the influence of an anesthetic, Mrs. Cole had several teeth extracted.

THEATRE

First Performance Thursday.

Much interest has already been awakened, as indicated by the advance sale at the box office, in the big society production of the "Parada" under the direction of Capt. Eddy at the Myers theatre, commencing Thursday evening. Nearly all of the favorite local amateurs will appear in the musical and comedy sketch and those who are to take part declare the performance will be the most pleasing of the kind ever given here. That the sinking fund for the new Palmer Memorial Mercy hospital will receive a substantial "nest egg" seems assured beyond a doubt. The performance will be given three nights with a Saturday matinee.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, September 21, 1870.—The Fair.—Opening Day.—The sun shown from a cloudless sky on the morning of the opening day of the fair, and as it mounted the azure arch, its shining rays gave promise of weather most favorable to the gathering of the sturdy sons of Rock. By the middle of the forenoon throngs of visitors began to gather on the grounds and a continuous column of wagons bearing exhibitors' articles flowed through the entrance gate. In the hall, and scattered over the grounds were busy groups of men and women arranging for display the tempting, luscious fruits of the orchard and vine, the products of rich fields, the cunning work of skillful hands, the successful results of long-studied art, the woven fabrics of the looms, the triumphs of the skill and workmanship of the mechanic—but to enumerate is a never ending task. Everything which skill and taste and a love for the beautiful can produce is here. The entries indicate that the fair now in progress will be far better than anything which has taken place under the auspices of the society during the past five years. The show of horses and cattle exceeds that of any previous exhibition held in Rock county.

BRYAN REFUSES TO SUP-PORT MAYOR DAHLMAN
Bols Nominations of Democratic Nominee for Governor Because of His County Opinion Views.
Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 21.—W. J. Bryan in a public statement announced that he will not support the nomination of James C. Dahlgren, mayor of Omaha, and Democratic nominee for governor of Nebraska. Mr. Bryan justifies his position on the ground that Mr. Dahlgren has pledged himself to elect to veto any county option bill the coming legislature may pass and also that he will sign a bill repealing the present eight o'clock saloon closing law. He says to support Dahlgren would be a step backward and embarrass him in the fight he expects to make hereafter to save the Democratic party from what he says is the odium of being the representative of the liquor interests. The declaration of Mr. Bryan is mild in tone and partly apologetic. He testified to the long personal and political friendship between Mr. Dahlgren and himself and says he is forced to take the position he does with regret.

When They Go Out to Dine.
"Did you ever notice the difference between a man's dinner and a woman's?" asked the observer. "A man takes you out to dinner. He orders a steak or roast beef, spaghetti, potatoes in some style, sliced tomatoes and bread or pudding. A woman gets sweet breads, artichokes, truffles, mushrooms or some other expensive delicacy, lettuce or apple salad and the fanciest kind of ice cream dessert. A man never thinks of having anything but good solid food, while a woman must have something different, and it usually takes the form of high-priced, non-nutritious dishes. If they are out of season, so much the better."

"Cold" Incident.
During a "crazy" snap at the Summit on the 13th and 14th, a fawn of the last season sought shelter in the lee of the railway water tank, which, owing to the constantly dripping water, was scarcely a comfortable refuge. Exhaustion and the cold proved too much for the youngster, and it was found frozen to death. A hunting dog, its natural enemy, was found curled up beside the deer, they having apparently sought warmth in mutual companionship. The dog was living and has completely recovered.—Wild World.

CONVINCING PROOF

OF THE VIRTUE OF Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

What is the use of procrastinating in the face of such evidence as the following letters represent? If you are a sick woman or know one who is, what sensible reason have you for not giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? For 30 years we have been publishing such testimonial letters as these—thousands of them—they are genuine and honest, too, every one of them.

Mrs. S. J. Barber says:
"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women—and I feel it my duty to let others know the good it has done for me. Three years ago I had a tumor which the doctor said would have to be removed by an operation or I could not live more than a year, or two, at most. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, and took 14 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today the tumor is gone and I am a perfectly well woman. I hope my testimonial will be of benefit to others."
—Mrs. S. J. Barber, Scott, N. Y.

Mrs. George May says:
"No one knows what I have suffered from female troubles, neuritis, pains, and backache. My doctor said he could not give me anything to cure it. Through the advice of a friend I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the pain soon disappeared. I continued its use and am now in perfect health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a God-send to me as I believe I should have been in my grave if it had not been for Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."
—Mrs. George May, 80 4th Ave., Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. E. F. Hayes says:
"I was under the doctor's treatment for a fibroid tumor. I suffered with pain, soreness, bloating, and could not walk or stand on my feet for any length of time. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, followed her directions and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Today I am a well woman, the tumor was expelled and my whole system strengthened. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."
—Mrs. E. F. Hayes, 1880 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Mrs. W. K. Housh says:
"I have been completely cured of a severe female trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and want to recommend it to all suffering women."
—Mrs. W. K. Housh, 7 Eastview Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Kaiser Visits Emperor Joseph.
Vienna, Sept. 21.—Emperor William arrived here and for two days will be the guest of Emperor Francis Joseph at Schoenbrunn.

Feastivity at Christenings.
Christenings seem to be far from dry ceremonies in Yorkshire, England. A lately man charged with falling to maintain his wife and family mentioned by way of reformation that he had bought in nine gallons of beer to christen the baby with!

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit. Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, abnormal discharges, fibroid tumors, irregular periods, backache, etc.
